COUNCIL SET TO TIGHTEN BELT

A number of high-profile projects in Canterbury, Whitstable and Herne Bay face an uncertain 2008 after council chiefs confirmed a cut in central government funding. Among them is the redevelopment of the Beane Institute (pictured) which houses the city's library and museum.

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

MAJOR development plans could be at risk as council bosses wrestle with a budget shortfall.

Spending on prestigious projects such as the Marlowe rebuild and the refurbishment of the Beane Institute – which houses the city library and museum – has been tightly reined in, with every stage now needing the express approval of the council executive before a penny is spent.

The panic comes after budget predictions for the next financial year suggest a “very high” risk to Canterbury’s capital projects. The council report states “there are already indications that other public bodies will not be able to fund projects on the scale anticipated.”

Cut back

The report lays out stark choices for the council in light of the revelations: “The consequences of this will be either that revenue costs will need to increase, assets will need to be disposed of, or other capital schemes will need to be cut back.”

The report continues: “The executive and the council will need to consider seriously whether it can continue with the scale of the capital programme and if so, which of the consequences it is prepared to accept.”

Others projects feeling the squeeze include the Wincheap bypass, the relocation of the Pier Sports Centre in Herne Bay, and the improvements to Whitstable Castle and gardens.

In a report from the head of finance to the council executive, it said: “The programme scheduled is clearly very ambitious. It is dependant on achieving substantial funding from other sources, in some cases to wholly fund schemes.

“As such there are risks to the council achieving

NEW DESIGN: Architect Keith Williams says the new fly tower will become a 'new pinnacle on the city's skyline' and compliment the cathedral

Architect's plans to take theatre to new heights

EXCLUSIVE

BY NICK AMES

THE world-renowned architect behind the ambitious multi-million pound scheme to rebuild the Marlowe Theatre has outlined his plans to transform the site.

Award-winning Keith Williams – who has worked on iconic buildings such as the Natural History Museum in London, as well as venues throughout Europe – says he wants the radically redesigned Marlowe to become an iconic venue on the city's skyline.

In an exclusive interview with Yourcanterbury, he revealed his grand design for a remodelled fly tower, access for theatre-goers to the river, and a more intimate, yet larger, auditorium at the city council-run facility.

Current plans are for the new theatre to be open for business in time for the panto season of 2010. The projected redevelopment received a 75 per cent approval rating during a period of public consultation.

He said: "I am very conscious of the importance of the Marlowe in terms of what it means for Canterbury at a cultural level.

"For instance, if you look at the existing fly tower – the part of the building where scenery and backdrops are stored and lowered from during performances – it really is just a large lump.

"But it is also the second tallest building in the city after the cathedral tower.

"I felt that if it could not be reduced in size – and that is not possible as it serves such a vital function – then it should be turned into a thing of elegance and become a new pinnacle on the city skyline, pointing towards the cathedral, which is obviously a building of great magnificence.

"So we have the cathedral as a spiritual pinnacle and the theatre as its secular equivalent."

Capacity

The plans for the redevelopment have just benefited from a £4 million boost from Kent County Council, allaying fears costs could downscale plans.

Mr Williams added: "There will be better sightlines and the river bank will be drawn into the project as we will use land currently occupied by a business to provide a new river front aspect.

"There will be an increase in capacity of 25 per cent from the current figure of around 950 as well as much closer intimacy between the stage and the audience.

"An increase in numbers and getting people closer to the stage is an interesting trick to pull off, but I feel we can do it as some seats in the current building are just so far from the stage.

"The theatre has a potential catchment number of around one million people, so it is obviously important.

"To keep it going at the current level would require substantial investment and as it falls so far short of modern standards – it really is just a converted 1930s cinema – it is far better to use funds to raise more money from the public and private sector to ensure the world famous city of Canterbury has an appropriate venue."

Residents petition to stub out fag-end mess

Council may fine governing bodies responsible for smoking litter

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

A SEA of cigarette butts littering Kent and Canterbury Hospital has prompted council leaders to consider legal action against governing bodies who fail to keep their premises clean.

At a recent executive meeting, members requested a report from the head of legal and democratic services into whether the authority could take a governing body to court over smoking-related litter on, or outside, their site.

The report is expected at a future executive meeting but a date has not yet been set.

The call for action comes after dozens of complaints about smoking-related detritus at the city's primary hospital.

The problem has got so bad householders living near the site have presented Canterbury MP Julian Brazier with a 400-name petition, protesting about NHS staff smoking in public spaces near the hospital.

Mr Brazier said: "I have been approached by a number of constituents calling for an amendment on the policy of banning smoking in the grounds of the Kent and Canterbury Hospital.

NO BUTTS: Residents around Kent and Canterbury Hospital complain about cigarette ends littering public spaces

"I share their concerns on this. The no-smoking policy on all trust property, including its grounds, forces those who wish to smoke to gather in nearby public spaces. This is creating pollution and litter problems which nearby residents understandably object to.

"They are therefore calling for an area to be created somewhere outside, but within the hospital site, which would enable staff to smoke without walking through into the neighbouring residential areas."

Currently the law bans smoking anywhere in hospital buildings, but smoking on the grounds is down to individual trusts' discretion.

The MP has written to chief executive of the East Kent Hospitals NHS Trust, Stuart Bain, voicing these concerns.

Canterbury council has also approached the health authority asking for examples of best practice at other hospitals in the county, to see if there is a better way of dealing with the issue.

Councillors have also raised a similar problem with smoking litter around Canterbury College, which also enforces a blanket ban on smoking on its campus.

Students therefore smoke outside the college, leading to litter and pollution in nearby residential streets.

Settlement leaves council with serious budget concerns its full programme. This is not to say it should not be approved.

"The new borrowing regime enables the council to be more ambitious and the director of corporate services will ensure the council complies with the prudential code of practice."

The council lay the blame in part on the Government's comprehensive spending review, the plans outlining spending plans across all government departments, including local authorities.

This has been described as "the worst financial settlement for local government in a decade" and has left many councils with serious budget concerns.

But the city council hopes to cover its ambitious plans by selling land at the Kingsmead and Maybrook developments. In the last financial year, Kingsmead alone has provided £10.7 million, some of which will go towards new development projects.

Boxing Day hunt gets big support

DOZENS of hunters from Canterbury and surrounding villages turned out on Boxing Day in support of a repeal of the ban on fox hunting.

More than 100 hunters from Canterbury, Folkestone and Ashford took part in a drag hunt, the legal alternative to fox hunting in which hounds follow a pre-laid scent trail, in Elham near Folkestone.

Hunting with dogs – most significantly against the fox – has been outlawed in England and Wales since February 2005 when the government passed the Hunting Act 2004.

However, pressure continues to overturn the Act from countryside campaigners.

Nick Onslow, spokesman for the East Kent Hunt, said: "We have seen increasing support with people from all walks of life demonstrating their support for the repeal of the Act.

"The Boxing Day meet is a great tradition, part of our heritage which for hundreds of people is as much part of Christmas as turkey and mince pies and it survives despite the prejudice of back-bench politicians."

Postal service is under too much pressure, says MP

HERNE Bay MP Roger Gale claims the postal service is at breaking point.

Mr Gale said a string of cut-backs in staff and services put the postal service under huge pressure in the run-up to Christmas and that postmen should not shoulder the blame from the public if packages ordered via the web were delivered late.

He said: "Some of the blame for any delay must lie directly with senior executives Allan Leighton and Adam Crozier who have imposed later start times and cost-cutting measures upon the work force.

"Many members of parliament who, like myself, visited their Royal Mail sorting offices, will be only too aware of the mountain of packages, many generated by online shopping, that were awaiting delivery, and of the volume of sacks of mail that too few postmen were being required to deliver in too short a time.

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

"Most people do not appreciate that only a relatively small percentage of the work collected and processed by private companies is in fact delivered by them to its end destination.

"The rest is passed to Royal Mail under cut-price contracts and Royal Mail is then required to finish the job – so it's not surprising that they are swamped at exceptional peak times."

His words follow huge public outcry in Canterbury after the closure of both Northgate and St Dunstan's post offices.

He said: "Either we want to preserve what has been one of the finest postal services in the world or we do not – but once it is gone we shall not be able to recreate it."

● CANTERBURY Cathedral is crumbling because of old age, said campaigners hoping to raise £50 million to save the ancient and iconic Kent landmark.

● MOST of Kent's road users were caught up in the chaos caused by Operation Stack, when police partially close part of the M20 every time the ports of Dover or Calais struggle against the weather or industrial action. Kent County Council shortlisted three sites for use as a giant lorry park.

● MILLIONAIRE Tory donor Stuart Wheeler made the shock announcement he was considering giving money to the Eurosceptic UK Independence Party.

The spread-bet tycoon, who owns Chilham Castle, said he wanted the Tory Party to take a harder line on Europe.

The Kent on Sunday revelation sent shockwaves through Westminster and was the top item in all major news bulletins the next day.

● KOS interviewed the partially blind widow of a war hero who had been left distraught after thieves broke into her home and stole his medals. Commander Guy Clarabut, a submarine captain, was awarded a Distinguished Service Order, Distinguished Service Cross and two Military Crosses for his valiant and brave actions during World War Two.

● THE Bishop of Rochester warned that Britain could return to a "form of barbarism" if the decline of Christianity continued.

Bishop Michael Nazir-Ali described Islam as the biggest threat facing the West since communism and called on the Government to stop being embarrassed of identifying with the nation's Christian roots.

● SINGER James Morrison visited Kent to play a low-key gig at the ABode hotel's pub in Canterbury as a guest of Invicta FM's excellent Live at the Local series.

Later that week the charismatic 22-year-old was named the Best British Solo Artist at the Brit Awards.

● LOCAL government in Ashford and the regional development agency became mired in a pornography scandal in March. Martin Bacon was the £100,000 managing director of Ashford's Future, the quango set up to deliver regeneration and jobs.

He suddenly resigned and Ashford council and the South East England Development Agency closed ranks. Finally, council leader Paul Clokie confirmed to KoS that Mr Bacon had been downloading pornography on his office computer.

● THIS month it was revealed £2m of taxpayers' money was being paid to council bosses in Kent every year.

The Kent on Sunday investigation into local authority pay packets revealed how nearly all of the county's 16 chief executives enjoyed salaries of around £100,000 a year.

And Kent County Council's Peter Gilroy was the UK's top paid chief executive. He earns £230,000 a year, which is more than the Prime Minister.

● KENT County Council came under fire again this month for wasting £90,000 on a failed scheme to set up passenger flights to America from Manston Airport.

Tour operator Cosmos pulled out and KCC lost all of its cash. The loss came less than two years after EUjet went bust. KCC had also invested £100,000 in that failed venture.

Review of 2007

It has been another eventful year for Kent, with everything from the Tour de France to earthquakes making headlines. Here's the pick of the news, as reported by our sister paper Kent on Sunday, over the last 365 days

● PEOPLE in east Kent suffered an earthquake on Saturday, April 28.

The tremor, which measured 4.3 on the Richter Scale, struck at 8.19am and caused an estimated £20m insurance bill. Thousands of homes were left temporarily without power in Folkestone and Dover.

● THRILLER writer David Hewson published his account of the battle to prevent the Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty at Wye from being covered in thousands of homes.

Saved told of the campaign fought against Imperial College, Kent County Council and Ashford council, which were working together to push through plans for a massive housing estate and a science park at Wye.

One of the reviews said: "This book is invaluable for any community, rural or otherwise, whose way of life and environment is being threatened by seemingly overwhelming fire-power and resources."

● THE deputy leader of Kent County Council was in the American state of Virginia helping to celebrate the Queen's state visit.

The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh were marking the 400th anniversary of the founding of the first English-speaking settlement at Jamestown.

KCC's Cllr Alex King led a Kent delegation to Virginia.

● KENT on Sunday exposed the injustice of how one third of the county's care homes only got 'adequate' or 'poor' ratings.

Age Concern, Britain's largest charity for old people, said standards at many of the homes were "just not good enough".

But KCC pointed out that 60 per cent of homes were assessed as 'good' or 'excellent' and less than 10 per cent were 'poor'.

● A POLL by Kent on Sunday showed Tory MPs in the county were overwhelmingly in favour of keeping grammar schools.

And seven out of 15 even said they would like to see more built – in defiance of the Conservative leadership, which had ruled out a new generation of the schools.

● TONY Blair congratulated Kent on Sunday and its readers for its campaign to help the village of Kent in Sierra Leone.

The message of support from the Prime Minister came after KoS delivered a tonne of donated schoolbooks and educational materials to the war-torn country.

● THE Home Office sparked anger and incomprehension over its decision to deport former professional cricketer Hartley Alleyne.

Mr Alleyne was refused a work permit and told to leave after the Home Office ruled his experience did not equate to the two A-levels needed to coach and work as a boarding assistant at St Edmund's School in Canterbury.

His campaign to stay continues backed by Kent on Sunday and Yourcanterbury.

● VETERAN paratrooper Mark Eyles-Thomas recalled the horrors of war in an interview with KoS to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the Falklands War.

The 42-year-old, from Birling, told of how he cradled a dying friend on the frozen slopes of Mount Longdon, the frost-covered strategic mount, which barred the way to the capital Port Stanley.

That night 23 paratroopers were killed, including three of Mr Eyles-Thomas' close friends.

● SOME village pubs could be forced to close by the smoking ban which came into force at the start of July, it was claimed.

The Kent-based head of a national publicans' group warned traditional community pubs that do not serve food were most at risk.

Godfrey Page, chairman of the Guild of Master Victuallers, which represents hundreds of pubs nationally, said the ban would inevitably lead to some closures.

● HUNDREDS of thousands flooded on to the streets of the county to watch the Tour de France make its way from London to Canterbury. On a rare day of good weather in the summer, the event was hailed a massive success, injecting millions of pounds into the local economy.

● THE Sierra Leone blind school choir's concert at Canterbury Cathedral was hailed as a triumph.

Around 700 people watched the magical performance by the choir from the Milton Margai School for the Blind.

The choir received a standing ovation at the finale. Audience members then donated more than £3,000 to the school.

Kent on Sunday organised the concert with the UK charity that supports the school.

● HOLLYWOOD star Matt Damon praised the director Paul Green-grass, who grew up in Kent.

The Bourne Ultimatum, directed by Greengrass and starring Damon in the title role, opened nationwide at cinemas in August.

Damon told Kent on Sunday: "Paul's style about not interfering in what's happening – it comes out of his documentary film-making."

● AN ARMY sniper revealed for the first time details of a ferocious battle in Iraq involving Kent-based troops.

Sergeant Dan Mills is a member of 1st Battalion, the Princess of Wales' Royal Regiment (1WPRR), which has its regimental headquarters in Canterbury.

He and a small company of 100 British soldiers held onto a remote base in the town of Al Amarah, in the Maysan province, while fanatical soldiers from the Mahdi Army attempted to dislodge them.

● TV ACTOR Chris Langham was found guilty of 15 counts of making indecent images of children. Langham, of Cranbrook, was later jailed for 10 months, though the sentence was later reduced on appeal.

● NINETY patients died as a result of contracting the superbug Clostridium difficile at hospitals run by the Maidstone and Tunbridge Wells NHS Trust, according to a damning report from the Healthcare Commission.

The watchdog said there was "a litany of errors" in infection control and criticised the lack of leadership at the trust.

The trust's chief executive Rose Gibb resigned shortly before the report was made public.

● A GROWING number of families were facing unmanageable levels of debt – and experts warned the situation would escalate.

Nationally, the amount of people losing their homes to debt was up by nearly a third on 2006's figures as a result of interest rates increasing, the commission said.

● LORD Deedes' youngest daughter, Lucy, spoke of her sadness on ending the family's ties with the county after their home was put up for sale.

The former Ashford MP and Daily Telegraph editor, who died aged 94, had lived in Aldington since 1946, but the family home went on the market in September for £750,000.

● THE local media scene received a much needed shake-up when KoS Media unleashed nine new local newspapers and a broadband TV channel. The free Your Local series were greeted with enthusiasm by readers across the county, while thousands flocked online to watch and upload clips to www.yourkenttv.co.uk.

OCT 2007 ● LOCAL radio presenter Julie Maddocks bid an emotional farewell to her listeners after being axed from her afternoon slot by BBC Radio Kent bosses.

Her dismissal had upset colleagues. One told KoS: "It was not Julie's choice to go and it is incredibly sad."

● WHEN Tony Blair bought Gordon Brown an ice cream in Gillingham ahead of the last general election some of his close advisors were "almost vomiting" according to a new Blair biography.

The book, Blair Unbound, added: "They're virtually holding hands".

● NEARLY three quarters of all criminal offences committed in Kent go unsolved, figures revealed. The Home Office statistics, released in October, showed detection rates for every type of criminal offence.

Kent police detected 18 per cent of robberies; 49 per cent of violence cases; 29 per cent of sex offences; 16 per cent of criminal damage cases; 30 per cent of fraud and forgery cases and 20 per cent for theft and handling stolen goods.

NOV 2007 ● THE parents of Jake Alderton paid tribute to their loving son who died in the service of his country in Afghanistan.

Lance Corporal Jake Alderton, a soldier with Maidstone-based 36 Engineer Regiment was killed in a road accident in Helmand Province.

Keith Alderton, his father, said: "If I could get him back tomorrow I'd have him, but what a fitting person to be that special, last soldier to die before Remembrance Sunday."

● ESTATE agents said the home information packs (HIPs) were causing widespread confusion and should be scrapped.

The Government announced that the packs would be extended so that they cover all properties.

Agents in Kent said that HIPs had created more trouble than they have solved.

● TWO bodies were found at a house in Margate. Police discovered the body of missing schoolgirl Vicky Hamilton in the garden of 50 Irvine Drive.

The 15-year-old was last seen in Scotland in 1991. Peter Tobin, 61, has been charged with her murder.

Police later found the body of Dinah McNicol, who was last seen in Surrey in 1991.

● UNMANNED police spy planes could soon be patrolling the skies over Kent on the hunt for smugglers, criminals and erratic drivers. Cops are planning to introduce the lightweight drones, currently being used by the military in Iraq and Afghanistan, by 2012.

DEC 2007 ● THE South East England Development Agency was branded a costly talking shop responsible for a "chronic, systematic waste of public money".

The quango, set up by Labour in 1999, was under scrutiny after it emerged that its three-day-a-week chairman, James Braithwaite, spent more than £51,000 on taxis alone last year.

The political commentator Leo McKinstry accused Seeda - which spent £195 million last year - of having "a scandalous contempt for the public purse".

● AN ARTIST who is producing an exclusive artwork to be exhibited in Folkestone scooped this year's Turner Prize.

Mark Wallinger won the prestigious award for his work State Britain, a precise reconstruction of anti-war protestor Brian Haw's display that stood in Parliament Square before being taken down by police last year.

Mr Wallinger is one of 23 artists taking part in the first Folkestone Triennial, a cultural event in which public works of art will be installed around the town next summer.

● THE ARCHBISHOP of Canterbury made an impassioned Christmas appeal for mankind to care more about the world.

In a special message to Kent on Sunday readers, Dr Rowan Williams referred to recent talks in Bali on climate change. He called on people to help address global warming, even if that meant making sacrifices.

The Bishop of Rochester, meanwhile, was mourning the death of friend Benazir Bhutto.

Council looks to control house building in area

GUIDELINES to control house building in the district are being considered by the council.

A draft plan lays out what is and isn't acceptable in terms of "residential intensification", which can lead to more houses being squeezed in to an area as gardens and other open spaces are sold off.

In the plan, the council lays out rules on design and the way houses are fitted in around existing buildings.

The city council has decided that developments which share driveways are not acceptable, preferring homes built behind existing houses to have their own access routes.

Mature trees and other planting is also "to be resisted", and flats must have an obvious entrance on the street.

Blocked drains could put you on course for a fine

PEOPLE with water courses running through their property could be breaking the law if they allow them to become blocked.

Last year's floods prompted a comprehensive report from Canterbury council into many aspects of flood risk and prevention.

Blocked drainage ditches were identified as contributing to the problem, and the council are this year planning a publicity campaign to alert landowners to the issue.

Inspectors will check important drainage courses in the district to ensure they are clear.

Blocked or poorly maintained ditches could land the owners with a fine.

QUESTION & ANSWER

SHAUN WILLIAMSON

Q Where are you currently living?

A I'm living at a lovely house with my family in a village on the outskirts of Faversham at the moment.

Q What's it like getting noticed when you're out and about?

A It's still really weird. I still get called Barry every now and then, I think more people now, depending on their age, associate me with my character on Extras.

I try and keep my mug on telly about four times a year just in case people start to think I'm dead. Being on television is a great advantage, other times it can be a pain, but then if you didn't want to be noticed you shouldn't be on television. There's no point being ungrateful.

Q Can you tell me a little about what you have lined up?

A I'm currently in panto at Canterbury's Marlowe Theatre playing a baddie which is much more fun than playing someone like Buttons. I also did the Christmas edition of Ricky Gervais' Extras and a modern version of Rapunzel which the BBC ran over Christmas, plus I was in Holby City last month.

Q What do your children think of your career?

A I think they're proud, they quite like it and it amuses them.

Kids under the age of nine don't really know me as anything else other than a panto baddie which is nice. I think my kids would get a lot of stick if I was in EastEnders now when they're at school. You get a different kind of attention compared with the other things I do.

Q Do you wish people would move away from the days of your EastEnders character and associate you with things you are doing now?

A No, I had nine great years with EastEnders. I will always be grateful to them for.

Q What was it like working with Ricky Gervais?

A Great, I was very surprised when he phoned me. He's like a kid really; very giggle but he really encourages you to improve, it's liberating.

Q What type of work do you enjoy most?

A I prefer comedy, but at the end of EastEnders I had some quite meaty stuff. Although it did get quite strange after crying on set for a few hours and then just getting up and going home. I also really enjoy most stage musicals. I did a national tour last year of Guys and Dolls which was brilliant.

Q What is your greatest achievement?

A My two young children – Sophie who's nine and Joe who's six – and bringing them up. It just doesn't get any better than that.

Q You were born in Maidstone, what was it like growing up there?

A I grew up on a council estate in Park Wood. Back in those days, the estate was surrounded by miles of countryside, so myself and my friends often went off playing in the fields for hours. We would also go over to Boughton quarry which had a lake in the middle of it, looking back now it was quite dangerous but back then people didn't worry so much about things like that. Park Wood has always had quite a tough reputation and the estates back then were quite tough but we never really had much trouble. I enjoyed growing up there. I liked the area and there was nothing wrong with the people living there, we all got on well and never had much trouble. They are really fond memories.

Q Are you proud to be born and bred in the country or would you have preferred to live in a busy city?

A Looking back, yes I am, but I think most children growing up wish they could live in a city like London, but I was lucky to be brought up in 1960s Maidstone.

Uncovering the county's history

■ BY JENNA PUDELEK

BENEATH the Garden of England lie the remains of past civilisations from the earliest period of human history to the emergence of the Kingdom of Kent and beyond.

The archaeological richness of the county is explored in a new book that reveals how each new development in Kent, both major and minor, brings us closer to the past.

The Archaeology of Kent to AD 800 is edited by John Williams who is head of heritage conservation at Kent County Council.

Part of Mr Williams' job at KCC is to ensure the county's archaeological heritage is safeguarded and investigated through the planning process.

With 160,000 new homes planned for the Thames Gateway and areas including Ashford and Maidstone undergoing major growth he has his work cut out.

He said ancient sites were being discovered everywhere that the growth agenda has an impact.

"We have been able to revise our story and get it up to date but the archaeological work is ongoing and we will continue to get major new contributions to the story of Kent.

"Sites are coming up all the time – even since the book has been published there have been some wonderful finds.

"At the A2 south of Gravesend, two very rich early Roman graves were discovered and there were some prehistoric field systems and Anglo-Saxon remains at Ebbsfleet."

Mr Williams told how Kent's archaeology is unique because of the county's proximity to mainland Europe.

Britain used to be a peninsula with the North Downs continuing uninterrupted into Northern France. During later periods of pre-history and carrying on into modern time links across the Channel have continued with the arrival of the Romans and the Normans.

"Kent is one of the key places. There were a lot of Stone Age discoveries in north Kent on the farmland near the gravel of the Thames," he said.

Swanscombe was home to the oldest human remains in the country until a recent find in Sussex. The skull was from a woman believed have died 400,000 years ago.

Iron Age, Roman and Anglo-Saxon discoveries have been made in Canterbury, which has layers of past generations beneath the foundations of modern stores.

The redevelopment of the Whitefriars shopping centre from 2000 to 2003 allowed archaeologists to carry out a large-scale excavation of medieval and Roman Canterbury.

Jewellery and personal items dating from Anglo-Saxon times show that Kentish fashions in the sixth to seventh century were a fusion of Scandinavian forms and other continental mode of decoration.

The use and availability of luxury materials marks out Kent from the rest of England, said Mr Williams.

Grave

Pendants found in a grave in Sibertswood near Dover include two imported gold coins, garnet and amethyst cabochons, which are gem stones that have been shaped and polished, and decorated millefiori – or coloured – glass.

The pendants and necklaces found unearthed would not look out of place adorning a modern woman, but they are more than 1,300 years old.

Mr Williams said: "The book offers something for both those with a real interest in archaeology and it is hoped that the people with a more general interest in Kent and its past will be attracted by it.

"The joy is its accessibility and that is what we were aiming for."

The book is packed full of colour illustrations and accurate drawings that recreate archaeological sites and digs.

Contributors include Martin Millett, who is Laurence Professor of Classical Archaeology at Cambridge University, a specialist in the social and economic change in the Roman world.

Francis Wenban-Smith, a principal research fellow in the department of archaeology at the University of Southampton, who is currently leading the Medway Valley Palaeolithic Project also contributed.

The book costs £25, published by KCC and Boydell Press from all good bookshops. Order copies from Business Support, Heritage Conservation Kent County Council, Second Floor, Invicta House, Maidstone, ME14 1XX.

TREASURE TROVE: Large excavation of medieval and Roman Canterbury (2000-03) at the site of the Whitefriars shopping centre

Becks brief appearance sends sales soaring

DAVID Beckham's controversial decision to model Emporio Armani underwear has sent sales through the roof.

His provocative appearance in the black and white adverts has prompted a rush for the white briefs in America. The range will not be available in the UK until the spring, but some retailers have reportedly set up waiting lists for the coveted pants.

In the meantime, some Emporio Armani underwear can be found at House of Fraser.

NEWS RELEASE

SPINE PRACTITIONER DONATES £10K TO HELP PEOPLE

This week a local health professional has kindly donated a cheque for more than £1,000 for the Salvation Army.

Dr. Farthing stated, "I have to give thanks to all of my patients who made this possible. During the year, we have saved a portion of our consultation fee to raise money for needed gifts for people less fortunate this Christmas".

"We have also provided literally hundreds of gifts to teenagers who may not have received anything this year. All of the presents have come from practice members kindly donating all kinds of things".

This is the second year running and the Ideal Spine Centre has committed to keep this up for many years to come.

Dr. Farthing said, "To help even more local people in our community, I have committed to providing a spine and health check, valued over £55 for free up to 10,000."

Nearly 200 people will be able to take advantage of this incredible opportunity.

The purpose of this drive is to help people who are still suffering, possibly taking pain-killing medication or have not been given a solution to their problems. Many people seek relief every day, but what the Ideal Spine Centre is aiming to do is address the cause of your problems.

This is a one-off opportunity, so if you want to take your family, you had better call quickly!

No doubt the phones will run hot this Christmas at the Ideal Spine Centre. Dr. Farthing said his Clinical Assistants are ready to help, so if you get the answering machine they will call you back and reserve you a place.

This offer finishes on January 31st!

GIFT OF BETTER HEALTH

When people are sick and dying, there are two things that they have in common:

1. They wished they spent more time with their family
2. They wished they took greater care of their health

This Christmas, the Ideal Spine Centre is donating £10,000 toward community health.

Strange world of the RSPCA

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

DEPRESSED fish, radioactive squirrels and shoe scrapers masquerading as hedgehogs; 2007 was another busy year for the RSPCA.

The animal welfare society answers more than a million calls each year, and for officers in the South East, last year provided some of the strangest ever.

One caller phoned to report a moorhen "acting strangely", while another claimed to have a frog in their pond that had swallowed a golf ball.

Fortunately the radioactive squirrel turned out to be an albino, although there was little the RSPCA could do for one caller's apparently depressed fish.

A similar reply was given to the man who rang to say he was dressed as a dog and his girlfriend was beating him so he wanted to log a complaint against her.

Other bizarre requests include asking officers to come and rescue a fly from a spider's web, and the rather possessive caller who said: "There's a bird sat on my wall. It's my wall and I don't want the bird there."

FEELING BLUE?: One caller claimed their goldfish was depressed

RSPCA director of animal welfare and promotion, John Rolls said: "The society relies on the public to be our eyes and ears by reporting cruelty. The fact so many people call the RSPCA reaffirms that we are a nation of animal lovers who aren't afraid to report cruelty or neglect.

"The RSPCA would like to ask the public to make certain when calling that their concerns are valid.

"Whilst we realise that many calls received can turn out to be genuine mistakes, every year inspectors and animal collection officers are delayed responding to cruelty complaints because they have been sent to a hoax callout."

Some calls were made with the best intentions, but turned out to be rather less serious than first thought. One concerned woman called about a hedgehog trapped in her basement. It turned out to be a shoe scraper.

In another case an inspector answered a call about an abandoned dog lying injured in a park. On arrival he discovered it was a broken umbrella.

An elderly lady rang to report a trapped animal in her loft after she heard noises coming from above. When the animal collection officer attended the creature causing concern turned out to be a low battery in a smoke detector.

The RSPCA say this is a common mistake.

Despite the weird and wonderful call outs, the RSPCA is keen for anyone wishing to report genuine acts of cruelty, or ask for advice to phone them on 0300 1234 999.

£520m social care boost

MORE than half a billion pounds has been set aside to help support elderly people in Kent.

The Government has announced an extra £520 million pounds to be shared between the county's districts in an effort to transform social care over the next three years.

The announcement came as the Health Secretary joined other government ministers in signing a ground-breaking concordat, between central government, local government, the professional leadership of adult social care and the NHS.

The principles of the Putting People First concordat aims to personalise social care including shifting the balance towards early intervention and prevention.

Jonathan Shaw, MP for Chatham and Aylesford, said: "The extra £520 million will be given to councils as a social care reform grant to help them redesign and reshape their systems.

"It will give the vast majority of people who receive funded care their own personal budgets so they can choose the support services they want for themselves or a family member.

"The grants will ensure investment in support which keeps older people healthy and tackles the scourge of loneliness and isolation: closer collaboration between local government and the NHS so people receive more coordinated and efficient support in the community."

The additional funding follows Government predictions that by 2025, one fifth of the population and one quarter of all adults will be over state pension age.

The Wanless Review in 2006 estimated that the cost of social care for older people is estimated to rise from £10.1bn in 2002 to £24bn by 2026.

WIN! An animal adoption box

YOURLOCAL Newspaper has come together with Kent based charity, The Aspinall Foundation, to give readers the chance to win an animal 'adoption box' complete with a tiger, elephant or gorilla cuddly toy, helping the charity continue in their aim to protect and breed endangered animals and return them to their natural habitat in the wild.

"Adopt in a box", encourages children to learn more about the charity's animal protection and conservation programmes, as well as raising funds to support this work.

This is your chance to win your own "adopt in a box". Normally the cost is £25 which includes either a cuddly Tugar, the tiger, housed at Port Lympne or Jara, the elephant, who lives at Howletts, both of whom are featured on BBC TV's Roar or Djéké who lives in Africa. An entry ticket to either park, an adoption certificate, plus fun stuff for your mobile or PC is also included.

The Aspinall Foundation supports and manages Howletts and Port Lympne Wild Animal Parks, home to more than 1,000 animals and 90 different species.

The parks house the largest captive group of western lowland gorillas in the world; the largest breeding herd of black rhino outside of Africa and the largest collection of African elephants in Europe. The parks are at the forefront of breeding rare and endangered species including clouded leopard, rusty spotted cats, gibbons, drills, black and white ruffed lemurs, hunting dogs, lions and tigers.

This work includes two gorilla rescue and rehabilitation projects in Gabon and Congo.

As well as joint conservation projects in Cambodia, South America and Tanzania, by way of rescue and rehabilitation, particularly of rhinos and primates.

To purchase one of these amazing adoption boxes please visit www.totallywild.net or call 01303 234199.

For your chance to win Tugar, Djéké or Jara, simply answer the following question: What are the names of the three animals that you can adopt in a box?

Send your answer on a postcard or sealed envelope with your name, age, address and phone number to Adopt in a Box comp, Apple Barn, Hythe Road, Smeeth, Ashford, Kent, TN25 6SR Closing date is January 28, 2008.

1. This competition is not open to employees (and immediate families) of KOSmedia or any other company associated with it.

2. Entries which are altered, illegible or not in accordance with the rules will be disqualified.

3. Responsibility cannot be accepted for entries lost or damaged. Proof of posting cannot be accepted as proof of delivery.

4. Entries must be received by noon on January 28, 2008 and names of the winners will be published in this newspaper. There is no cash alternative to the prize.

The Aspinall Foundation would like to keep readers updated with its work, including sending out the free magazine, 'WildCry'. Please write on your entry 'NO UPDATES' if you would prefer not to be updated.

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living in and around Canterbury...

Forget those year-round sales and go for cashback

ANSWER me this please: How can there be sales on in the High Street 52 weeks a year?

It doesn't make sense. Nothing has a real price any more. There are just sale prices which are really the real price. And if it isn't on sale, it'll be two-for-one. Or buy one, get one free. What's that all about?

If you went to buy, say, a new house, and the estate agent said: "We're doing two for one at the moment," well, you'd smell a rather large rodent wouldn't you. If you're not convinced, picture yourself in a car showroom: "New car sir? You're in luck, buy one get one free." I don't think so.

But in the High Street women fall for it every day of the week. How many times have you heard your woman say: "I'm just nipping into town to do some shopping" and you nearly choke on your Pringles because she hasn't even unpacked the bags from the last trip.

Yet she beams: "Because there's a sale on." Well, there's always a sale on. But still she goes and still she comes back with another load of old toot that you never imagined, not even in your wildest dreams, that you'd ever need.

There it is, with the till receipt stapled to the carrier bag shouting 'sucker'. Because it was a bargain. In the sales. As if owning one bread-making machine that has never been used isn't bad enough, imagine having two of them.

I don't want to exaggerate, but if the first bread maker has never been out of the box, what is the chance of it wearing out so it needs replacing with the second brand new one? There's a formula to work out probability, but as I'm no mathematician I'd say the chances are slim.

Yet there's your beloved, grinning from ear to ear because she's bought it for you and saved a small fortune in the process. Now the alarm bells are really ringing because if she's bought that to keep you happy, just imagine what she's gone and bought for herself. I've yet to see a woman with more than two feet but the way they buy shoes you'd think they were trying to kit out a centipede. And they need the dress to go with the shoes and the bag to go with the dress. None of it is quite the right size, but by heck it was all a bargain.

It'll be a few weeks before the full extent of her bargain hunting becomes apparent but you'll stumble across it all in due course. In the bottom of the wardrobe. Under the bed. Don't be surprised to hear the loft ladder being put through its paces after a little trip to the shops.

But when you ask: "What's all this then?" the reply will bear no relation whatsoever to the contents of the bag you've just discovered. Her jaw will tighten like she's got tetanus. She isn't going to say she needed a new this, that or the other. She'll reply: "It was in the sales."

The way this is going, we'll soon have such a bad credit rating from the purchase of surplus to requirements kitchen paraphernalia (don't even mention ice-cream makers) that we won't be able to afford to put food on the table. But we'll be quids in and have enough unwanted clothes and accessories to stock a small boutique.

Think about it next time you see a 'sales' sign and be thankful that us blokes have the sense not to fall for it. We go for cashback.

TALK TIME

BRYN PARRY

The organiser of Help for Heroes tells Yourcanterbury about the initiative to improve rehabilitation facilities for injured soldiers

Why did you start Help for Heroes?

Emma and I were privileged enough to meet the wounded at Selly Oak. We walked into a ward of thirty or so soldiers, sitting or lying on their beds, in T shirts and boxers and they were wounded. They were not lying there under white sheets like in the movies, they were on top of the bedclothes and they were missing arms and legs. One man was missing both his legs and his neck was in a brace. He was consoling the son of another soldier who had died in the incident in which he had nearly died; it was profoundly moving. We came home determined to do something, difficult not to want to do something when you meet these people who are so brave, modest and humorous. And so Help for Heroes was born.

The response has been amazing, are you surprised by the scale of public feeling this represents?

No. People are basically good, decent and caring. Sure, we get bound up in our lives, swept along with the current of jobs, families, stress, hassles. We have not become bad; we are just busy. But we have noticed an amazing generosity of spirit coming through Help for Heroes. By stressing that we are non political and non critical, we are enabling people to divorce their lack of support for the wars from their feelings of admiration of those who are fighting them. We can show our support, by donation, for those Servicemen and women who join the Armed Forces to serve their country and are wounded doing their duty. And this has been borne out by the donations flooding in. In nine weeks we have raised nearly £1.5 million! Surely that is unprecedented. The goodwill is infectious, the desire to make this work, to make a difference. People are enjoying catching this virus, this desire to help, to do something really great, to buck the system.

How did Shepherd Neame get involved?

I love the Spitfire advertising which is very much the serviceman's humour so I contacted Shepherd Neame, had a chat and then they flew with it!

Get on track to help the disabled

The London Marathon is a major date in the running calendar and it would be fantastic if you could take up the challenge for Leonard Cheshire Disability.

I know first-hand how tough running a marathon can be. I had my legs amputated when I was 11 months old and learnt to walk on prosthetics.

A few years ago I had never even stepped onto a running track. But just four years later running has become my passion and I'm a paralympic world record holder. I am close to quali-

I think it's climate short change

What is all this fuss about climate change?

The weather is the same as it's always been – rainy and wet.

We have had hot summers before and rainy ones like the last on. In my view it is just another way of raising money via taxes.

I don't believe anything this Government says anymore.

Fight the urge to keep shopping

One of the most ridiculous things at this time of year is the sales.

We have just got over Christmas and all the furore which accompanies buying presents and now we are being bombarded with useless demands to go and buy yet more rubbish.

Collar criminals not innocent drivers

We see so many police on the roads at this time of year – all looking to make an easy collar by targeting motorists.

So few people drink and drive these days as it is just not part of the culture of today.

So wouldn't they be better off doing something useful – like catching criminals.

NEW SEASON

Marlowe Theatre, Canterbury

FROM favourite tales to comedy, there will be something for everyone at the Marlowe in 2008.

Yamato, the Drummers of Japan, pictured, will be making themselves heard, as will the Soweto Gospel Choir. Enjoy the majestic grace of Beauty And The Beast On Ice, Northern Ballet Theatre's Hamlet and the new production by the Richard Alston Dance Company.

The story of Peter And The Wolf will be presented as you've never seen it before, Lazy Town Live is on its way to shake up Canterbury and pirates are waiting to transport you to Treasure Island.

Whether you are yearning to see David Essex in Aspects of Love or tap your feet to Chas 'n' Dave, there are musical offerings for every taste.

Top TV comedian Dara O'Briain will perform as part of his new tour. Ellen Kent's productions of Madame Butterfly and La Traviata are sure to provide an unforgettable evening of entertainment.

For full details, pick up a brochure or see www.marlowetheatre.com.

COMING UP IN 2008

Horsebridge Arts and Community Centre, Whitstable

LEGENDARY R'n'B act Wilko Johnson will make a welcome return to Whitstable.

The former member of Dr Feelgood and Ian Dury's Blockheads is just one of the highlights of the new season of entertainment. Also in the line-up are the Blue Rhythm Kings, with the authentic sound of 1920s jazz, and Hugh Cornwell with his Stranglers and Beyond Acoustic Tour.

Tony Blake returns with his Archive Film Show and The Richard Rozze Hammond Organ Trio will be showcasing its wide range of jazz influences.

Laugh at the Horsebridge Comedy nights and the Monkeyshine Stand-up Comedy Showcase, where students from the University of Kent hone their craft. Ian Keable, the Accountant Magical Comedian, is sure to be another unmissable act. For details see www.horsebridge-centre.org.uk.

ON GENERAL RELEASE

ST TRINIANS (12A)

Girls just wanna have fun in Oliver Parker and Barnaby Thompson's revival of the naughty hockey stick-wielding minxes. St Trinian's is frothy and undemanding fun, interspersed with snappily edited montages set to songs by Shampoo, Sophie Ellis Bextor and Girls Aloud. Stars Rupert Everett, Colin Firth and the brilliant Russell Brand as Flash Harry.

BEE MOVIE (PG)

Co-written by Jerry Seinfeld, who also voices the lead character, computer-animated adventure Bee Movie is a fitfully amusing romp that peddles many obviously puns and gags. "A perfect report card - all bs!" Seinfeld brings his dry humour to his role while Renee Zellweger, Matthew Broderick and co offer lively support.

ALVIN AND THE CHIPMUNKS (U)

Alvin And The Chipmunks treats its audience like fools, keeping dialogue to a minimum the plot is slow. Kids might giggle at the sight of one chipmunk noisily breaking wind in Dave's face, but laughs are few and far between.

Taking the leap into adulthood

■ BY BEN FALK

ELFIN-like Natalie Portman is renowned for her intelligence as one of the few young actresses in Hollywood who not only went to college - but to Harvard.

She also has a reputation for being mature beyond her 26 years, an attitude honed growing up on movie sets.

When you meet Portman you immediately see she is articulate and well-spoken, informed and possessed of great beauty.

But blink your eyes and look again and you'll see a kid, a girl in her mid-20s who looks 16, and who peppers her conversation about poverty in Africa and her charity work with dozens of "likes" and "whatevers".

It's refreshing that in the battle-hardened world of Tinseltown, where tweens have business managers, she hasn't forfeited her youth, which is why she loved making new film Mr Magorium's Wonder Emporium.

"I thought it was such a wonderful thing to put out into the world," she says of the film. "It's so positive and in such a unique way."

Unique indeed. Natalie is the shop assistant at a magical toy shop run by the impossibly-old Dustin Hoffman, who finally decides to pass on the business, Willy Wonka-style, to her.

"I could really relate to the character too," she admits.

"It was something I could really understand - that transition into adulthood."

Ah yes, the old passage from child actor to bona fide movie star. It's something that Natalie continues to grapple with, ever since making her debut aged 12 as a precocious wannabe hitwoman in Leon.

Her role as Queen Amidala in the second Star Wars trilogy straddled the divide between they're saying are party animals are not either.

"In some ways, it's a self-fulfilling prophecy - they follow you less, so they catch your mistakes less."

In other words, she's more than happy to continue without making it into the pages of Heat. Next up is period drama The Other Boleyn Girl, in which she plays doomed queen Anne Boleyn with Scarlett Johansson as her sister.

She's also currently shooting a remake of the Danish hit Brothers, alongside alleged former beau Gyllenhaal.

Prestigious, arty projects for sure, but to float Natalie's boat it's got to be something she is passionate about.

youth and grown-up, but by semi-abandoning films and focusing on her studies, it seemed for a while that she wasn't interested in being a woman in Hollywood.

She has a degree in psychology, speaks fluent Hebrew and her work has appeared in several scientific journals. Nonetheless, she now says it would be tough to give up acting.

Portman doesn't discuss who's she dating or dated, but names like Jake Gyllenhaal, Hayden Christensen and Gael Garcia Bernal have all come up.

"From a young age, my parents taught me not to talk about private stuff because as soon as you start putting it out there, it's like fair game," she says.

But as for why she hasn't fallen into the trap of Britney and co, she adds: "I think the press branded me as one thing."

"They branded me as the good kid. But none of us are all good or all bad. The kids who Whether you are looking for a group activity with a distinctive venue or simply want somewhere to celebrate a special occasion, Greenfields Shooting Ground is the ideal choice.

The Greenfields clubhouse is a perfect venue for birthdays, wedding receptions, anniversaries or any other events that require a sizeable venue with a fully licensed bar in an attractive location. You don't have to shoot to book it!

The clubhouse itself is a distinctive Norwegian-style wooden shooting lodge, which commands sweeping views over the surrounding countryside. It has a large deck for alfresco dining or an outdoor drink in the summer.

The lodge makes a pleasant and convivial place in which to relax and socialise with your guests at any time of the year.

We are able to provide for your catering needs, from cold buffets to barbecues.

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS
(Jan 21 - Feb 19)

TRUST your instincts with regard to an unusual money-making venture. Your New Year resolution must be to make more use of your management skills and to push yourself forward in situations where you would prefer to take a back seat. Spending more time with friends will prove relaxing during the early part of 2008.

PISCES
(Feb 20 - Mar 20)

YOUR dynamism could attract the attention of an older intellectual. This could be the beginning of a beautiful friendship. The two of you make an odd but compelling pair. Your creative abilities are the secret to your career success in early 2008. Your New Year resolution should be to launch a home improvement project before early March.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr 20)

THIS year looks potential packed. You know just how to get the best out of your team. One of your New Year resolutions must be to improve your management skills. Your schedule will be very full between now and early March. Answering phone calls, text messages, and emails will demand much of your attention.

TAURUS
(Apr 21 - May 21)

YOUR expertise and experience makes you a desirable candidate for romance. A friend could set you up on a blind date. One thing is for sure: the chemistry between you will be fizzing. You'll be spending money as fast as it comes. While all of this financial activity makes you nervous, these expenditures are necessary to fuel future ventures.

GEMINI
(May 22 - Jun 22)

YOU could get an exciting bonus as thanks for a job well done. Cutting the household budget will give you greater financial security. It's better to have reserves in the bank than luxuries in your living space. Your love life undergoes a blissful honeymoon. Your New Year resolution must be to take more exercise.

CANCER
(Jun 23 - Jul 23)

THE chance to study an unusual subject could come via a business or romantic partner. The more you know, the more desirable you get on the job market. Falling in love with someone who is much older or younger is a distinct possibility this week. Promise yourself you will make the most of the opportunities coming your way in 2008.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug 23)

A BRILLIANT idea for conserving resources is worth following. Assuming a prominent position at work could also put extra money in your pocket, but it will involve added responsibility. Your love life will sizzle with excitement for the next month. If you've already got a partner, the two of you could be blessed with a child.

VIRGO
(Aug 24 - Sep 23)

A BUSINESS or romantic partner's unusual outlook gives you an idea for a creative project. This year brings an opportunity to work on a more prominent level and you will love to be acknowledged for your expertise. Spending more time at home gives you a wonderful feeling of security. Prepare for your career to take flight.

LIBRA
(Sep 24 - Oct 23)

A CHANCE to work from home could triple your productivity. Take the helm of a domestic matter this week. Trust your instincts, particularly with regard to assigning responsibilities to relatives and roommates. Your New Year resolution must be not to accept second best from those around you.

SCORPIO
(Oct 24 - Nov 22)

A FLIRTATIOUS conversation puts a spring in your step over the New Year celebrations. A group effort highlights your speaking or writing ability and you may be asked to act as the team's representative. More money for luxuries could come pouring in between now and late January. Take this opportunity to spoil yourself.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov 23 - Dec 21)

IDEAS for making your budget stretch farther will give you more freedom. Your star is on the rise so don't be surprised if you're given a raise or praise in recognition of your many and varied talents. If you're not happy in your current job, your New Year resolution should be to look around for a new position with more responsibility.

CAPRICORN
(Dec 22 - Jan 20)

TWO unrelated events could result in an exciting breakthrough. Teaming up with a respected expert could help you turn this brainstorm into a profitable business. Keep a love affair under wraps or meddling mischief makers will spoil the fun. Your New Year resolution should be to embark on an intense exercise regimen.

Has the time come to evict reality TV?

■ BY CHRIS THOMSON

IT SEEMS like a lifetime ago, but it was a mere 12 months since Jade Goody's fragile career as a celebrity dimwit exploded amid the racism row of Celebrity Big Brother.

Along with the equally dumb Jo O'Meara (ex-S Club 7) and Danielle Lloyd (ex-Miss Great Britain), their bullying of Bollywood's Shilpa Shetty sparked headlines worldwide.

And while Channel 4 bosses initially rubbed their hands with glee at the increase in viewing figures, they quickly found those same hands holding their heads in sorrow as sponsors jumped ship and the annual New Year goose decided it was not going to lay its golden egg in 2008.

But with Celebrity Big Brother 2008 pulled altogether in the wake of the media furore which followed last year's series, Channel 4 have opted to see in the New Year with yet another twist on its money-making reality theme. Enter Celebrity Hijack.

The house is still there. The housemates will be thrown in. A cash pot of £50,000 on offer. But rather than the all-singing, all-dancing version going out on prime time, Celebrity Hijack will be a more muted affair.

While the opening show will be on tomorrow on Channel 4, it will then become the property of the channel's digital sister station E4.

A sign TV bosses are no longer convinced of the clout the Big Brother concept still packs? Or simply testing the water for yet another mainstream assault on reality TV addicts? As ever, the power will lie with the viewer...after all, you decide whether to watch it or not.

In a nutshell, Celebrity Hijack will drop into

WATCHING THEM: It was just a year ago that Jade Goody and friends shocked the world with their harsh treatment of Shilpa Shetty on Celebrity Big Brother the house 'gifted' young individuals, all aged between 18 and 21 (gifted with intelligence or the ability to show-off, remains, as yet, unclear). Then a host of celebrities will take turns to be Big Brother, setting tasks and causing, so the details of the show boast, mischief with the inmates. They will even be let loose in the behind-the-mirrors camera runs. A nation can hardly wait.

Dermot O'Leary – fresh from his underwhelming role as X Factor host – will host the live opening show. The series will be his Big Brother swansong after confirming he is to present Big Brother's Little Brother no more.

In truth, he was once a breath of fresh air – but as the housemates for the main show became thicker and thicker in each passing series, so his light dimmed. The words 'sow' and 'silk ear' spring to mind.

His nightly 7.30pm E4 slot for the new show will allow him one last chance to try and recapture past glories before he departs.

But at stake is something far more important: the public's view on reality TV.

Surely now, after eight years of it, we have had enough?

The crowning of X Factor winner Leon, and Big Brother's, er, can't even remember his name, underlined once and for all that our apparently endless appetite for the format is surely over. They take 'forgettable' to a whole new stratosphere. We have gorged at its table, been violently sick, and now never want to see another one again.

It's cheap and cheerful telly – no doubt. And the money generated by callers having their say has long since injected huge sums into the bottom line of the TV companies involved. But with each show bringing with it new controversies over phone votes, the trust of the viewer is diminishing rapidly. Not to mention the fact the talent these shows are unearthing really is worthy of picking up a dictionary and checking the true definition of the word.

In truth, hopes of relegating such shows to digital channels – such as the case with Celebrity Hijack – will not make financial sense; they rely too much on as wide an audience as possible in the hope a decent fraction pick up the phone.

Perhaps it will be genuine viewer power – via the use of the off switch – which will evict them all from our schedules.

Ski resort puts families first

■ BY HANNAH STEPHENSON

IT WAS a chilling thought taking my two children on their first skiing trip.

If just one of them didn't take kindly to the slopes I could face a week of tobogganing, ice-skating or languishing in over-priced mountain cafes trying to keep a little one entertained, while waiting for the others to come down the mountain.

However, as both my husband and I are keen skiers, we agreed to tread on thin ice for our first family ski-trip to Flaine, in the northern French Alps between Geneva and Chamonix.

It forms the centre of the spectacular Grand Massif, one of the largest linked ski areas in France, offering 265km of snowsports over 133 runs, with 78 ski lifts connecting Flaine with the neighbouring resorts of Samoens, Les Carroz d'Araches, Morillon and Sixt Fer a Cheval.

At 1,600m, Flaine's not quite as high as other French resorts, such as La Plagne or Courchevel 1850, but because it lies within a dramatic bowl, the snow remains longer than at other locations.

With 52 red runs, 52 blues, 15 greens and 14 blacks, there's enough skiing for all abilities, but the resort comes recommended as a child-friendly destination, with plenty of nursery slopes to keep the youngsters amused.

Flaine centre, it has to be said, is more concrete than picture postcard, having been purpose-built in the 1960s. But my seven and eight-year-old children didn't notice the architecture when they were having fun in the snow – and there was plenty of it.

LASTING: Being located in a bowl means the snow lasts for longer in the ski resort of Flaine

We needn't have worried about them taking to the sport. Once we had hired the boots and skis the children couldn't wait to have a go, and as they could ski virtually from the door of our hotel, we didn't need to walk far for the fun to begin.

There are several free lifts at the base of the resort, which accommodate two green runs ideal for beginners, so we didn't buy a ski pass for our children on the first day just in case they didn't like it.

But after an afternoon finding their snow legs, they were hooked and could soon tackle the chairlift with an adult.

Ski school is a must for young beginners – to learn the basics of snow-ploughing, distribution of weight on the skis and, most importantly, how to stop. They also make new friends in the lessons and it gives parents time to ski on their own.

However, during peak season ski school can be crowded, so we organised a couple of private lessons. A two-hour lesson for two children in Flaine with ESF cost 69 Euros (about £49) and was worth it – they progress quicker and have individual attention which can make it safer.

I met several families during my stay who had driven to Flaine, taking the Dover-Calais ferry and then sharing the eight-hour drive.

They chose to drive partly because it's cheaper than a package and partly because they were self-catering and could cram provisions for the week in the car.

The last thing I want to do at the end of a day on the slopes is cook, so we opted for a package holiday with Crystal at the Club Hotel Totem, where you can ski to the door.

For a three-star hotel, the food was fabulous. The menu changed daily and we were offered choices ranging from sea bass and hake, to venison, roast lamb and vegetarian stir fries.

PROPERTY NEWS

Protect yourself against burglars

WHILE you splash out on gifts for loved ones this year, security experts are warning householders to take extra care to prevent falling victim to burglars.

Although such crimes are few and far between, Home Office statistics show Kent is one of the UK's top 10 regions most likely to be affected by burglary – with research suggesting you're more likely to be burgled just after Christmas.

Jill Willis, market development manager at Norwich Union Insurance, said: "Christmas is a time to relax and catch up with friends and relatives, but the threat of burglary during this period can't be ignored.

"Our research shows that three quarters of British people are not taking any extra care to protect their homes and property. By taking a few simple steps, homeowners can help to avoid the trauma burglaries cause."

Key recommendations include keeping presents out of view from opportunist thieves, asking trusted neighbours to keep an eye on your property, using timer switches for lights, and not forgetting to double-check all windows and doors before you leave the house.

Get on the ladder by buying with a buddy

MAKING those first steps onto the property ladder can be a tricky business, especially with house price to income ratios now higher than ever.

One solution is to join forces with a friend and pool your resources to buy a property together and share the monthly outgoings.

The concept of 'buying with a buddy' is becoming increasingly common and websites have sprung up to help would-be home owners pair up with like-minded individuals.

Caron Hutchins, sales manager for Redrow Homes (Eastern), says: "A new home is great for first time buyers as it comes with a 10-year Buildmark warranty and requires little or no maintenance and none of the renovation or repair that goes with buying a run-down terrace. New homes also tend to be more energy efficient, which makes for fewer arguments over the heating bills."

BUILD ON IT: The coming year looks set to be the perfect time to sell your land, as developers aim to meet the targets for affordable, eco-friendly and family homes

Land yourself a good deal on your open space

■ BY CHRIS THOMSON

THE new home market is set for an upturn next year – with eco-friendly homes playing a key role in driving the sector upwards, according to property experts.

And the role of housing associations in snapping up land to build much-needed affordable housing in the county is set to provide more choice for those looking to snap up a new-build property.

This year has seen prices for new homes continue to rise and the market remained buoyant through the summer before experiencing a slow down towards the end of the year.

On the supply side, due to a dwindling stock of good brownfield sites available for building, there has continued to be fierce competition between developers over sites, which in turn means land prices have stayed strong.

According to chiefs at RPC Land and New Homes, the situation should shift during 2008.

Managing director, Peter Randall, said: "This year the market has been quite tough for developers, but they are still very hungry for land and desperate to purchase good sites and that will continue into 2008 and beyond.

"This year has seen the new homes market start well and then slow down. I expect that to change around in 2008, with perhaps a slow start followed by an upturn later in the year.

I believe next year we will see more housing associations involved with developments in Kent to meet affordable housing numbers and I think eco-friendly developments will also become more common.

"There is also a growing trend in some part of the county for planners to look for more family housing, reversing the trend over the past few years for higher density developments such as flats. I would expect developers to follow suit and look to provide more two, three and four-bedroom properties.

"With competition still strong over sites for development, land prices look set to be maintained. This, coupled with the axing of tax exemptions on empty commercial premises, means 2008 could be a wise time to cash in on land for development. It's best to talk to an expert to get the best design for a plot."

RPC Land has offices at Dartford, Chatham, Maidstone, Ashford, Tonbridge and Haywards Heath.

NEW STYLE HOMES COME IN HUGE VARIETY BUT TRADITIONAL STYLE IS STILL POPULAR. LEARN MORE @ yourkenttv.co.uk

USED CAR ROUND-UP: OUR PICK FROM A KEY SECTOR

MIDI MPVs

VAUXHALL pioneered a new people carrier segment with the original Zafira – the midi seven-seater. The Zafira was handier than a full-size people carrier like the Ford Galaxy or Renault Espace yet able to carry two more people – likely to be kids though – than a standard compact MPV such as the Renault Scenic. With all rear seats folding flat to the floor it could also better an estate car and challenge a van for load-lugging capacity. No wonder it soon spawned imitators such as the two excellent rivals also featured here.

carsforkent.co.uk

TOYOTA VERSO

TOYOTA quickly realised its previous five-seat Corolla Verso was just not cutting it in a growing market for mid-sized MPVs and axed it in favour of the current seven-seat version after just two years – an awesome demonstration of the Japanese giant's determination and production powers. Now known simply as the Verso, the result is one of the best MPVs in the class: stylish, highly flexible, generously equipped and featuring some good engines, plus built-in Toyota reliability and quality.

VAUXHALL ZAFIRA

YOU could almost hear the motor industry gasp when the Zafira was unveiled. OK, the styling was never exciting, but Vauxhall's motoring equivalent of a Swiss Army Knife came with brilliant flexibility as standard thanks to the Flex7 system that allowed the rear two rows of seats to be folded flat into the floor, to create various permutations or a massive load area. The original has been replaced by an even better model, but it is still a star buy.

VW TOURAN

BEWARE bargain priced Tourans – these are usually examples with just five seats rather than the more usual seven, an asset which helps Tourans to have one of the slowest depreciation rates in the MPV sector. The Touran is a good drive for a people carrier, refined and well-built to VW's high standards even if the styling inside and outside is a little bit bland. The car counters this minor gripe through some excellent engines including VW's renowned turbodiesels.

Class Cars

INDEPENDENT Mercedes-Benz and Porsche specialist, Class Cars is situated at new premises in Wingham near Canterbury.

Originally based in Eastry, the company moved to due to a requirement for larger and improved premises, allowing them to serve clients to a higher standard than already set.

The company is a partnership between Steve and Maggie Ackrill. Steve has more than 30 years technical experience of performance and prestige vehicles while Maggie deals with administration and is the first point of contact for customers whether by telephone, email or in person.

Established 10 years ago, Class Cars has become the place to go for performance and prestige car owners who wish to have their cars maintained and serviced without paying main dealer prices.

In 2001, Class Cars concentrated their efforts and resources and specialised in Mercedes-Benz and more recently Porsche. There is a team of highly skilled staff offering a very high standard of workmanship at affordable prices.

Class Cars have been servicing, repairing and upgrading Mercedes-Benz and Porsche cars for 10 years. The new site on the A257, between Canterbury and Sandwich, is fully equipped to offer servicing to manufacturers recommended schedules using genuine parts and Mobil lubricants.

Quality care for your quality car

Class Cars have both the Mercedes-Benz Star Tester and Porsche PST2 diagnostic systems – these manufacturer supplied tools enables Class Cars to offer main dealer levels of system testing and fault diagnosis. The company's latest acquisition is the Hunter DSP600 Imaging Four-Wheel Aligner System. This state-of-the-art equipment carries Mercedes-Benz and Porsche approval enabling Class Cars to adjust suspension settings to the optimum to prevent uneven tyre wear, steering pull or resetting alignment after having a suspension upgrade package fitted.

The company holds a large stock of genuine Mercedes-Benz and Porsche parts covering all that is likely to be required for routine servicing so if a car requires new brake discs and pads, after seeking customer approval, the work can usually be carried out the same day. All cars are washed before being handed back to the customer and a full valet service is available if required.

Class Cars are agents for Revo Technik performance software and can offer power upgrades for Porsche and all VAG Group vehicles. They are also agents for Carlsson Mercedes-Benz tuning products and Bilstein Suspension Kits.

As from the New Year, Class Cars will offer servicing and repairs to all Smart Cars along with the opening of their Smartzone showroom for the sale of Smart cars and accessories.

Marketing and Communications Manager

37 hrs per week, salary: £36,188 per annum Post Ref: 0806/KoS

We are seeking an experienced and talented individual to take responsibility for the strategic and general management of the college's marketing and communications, to establish, lead and manage a multi-disciplinary marketing and communications team; providing strategic vision and direction to ensure that the college's goals are met.

You will lead in the development, implementation and evaluation of a range of communications and marketing projects including events, campaigns and consultations.

The strategy you develop will be informed by thorough market and competitor research. You will be responsible for analysing and reporting to the Senior Management Team on the findings of this research and on campaign effectiveness and progress against budget and targets.

The college's internal communications are a key element of this role as the college strives to "Be the best college in the South East". Your team will commission, write, edit, proof read and coordinate internal and external publications, leaflets and promotional materials. Your experience of working with local, regional and national media will be essential in building and communicating the college's brand values and identity through a proactive media and public relations strategy.

This post is a senior role within the college structure and you will be required to provide reputation management advice and media advice to senior managers.

To be successful, you will have a closely relevant professional qualification, and experience of leading a marketing and communications team.

You will possess a high level of communication and interpersonal skills, and the ability to influence and work with colleagues across the College.

You will also have a commitment to educational and training values, and to Equal Opportunities.

CANTERBURY CAMPUS

Computing Services

Computer Liaison Officer (Two Posts)

£27,466 to £29,139 per annum

Following a restructure of our Computing Services Department, we're seeking two additional experienced professionals to join the Computing Liaison Team. As part of this small team, you'll proactively develop the department's relationship with the faculties - you'll also identify the potential benefits of IT, help to establish business cases, and meet the needs of key stakeholders in this field.

Educated to degree level, you'll combine project management experience with the proven ability to enable the interaction of IT and business operation. It's also important that you are an excellent communicator who is comfortable liaising at all levels of our organisation. A specific background in IT support would be an advantage, as would experience of developing service level agreements. Ref: CLO/CS/77.

Interview date: 21 & 22 February 2008.

Web Systems Administrator/ Programmer

£27,466 to £29,139 per annum (A higher salary may be available for an exceptional candidate)

As part of our Infrastructure Group, you'll provide expert technical support and development across our IT infrastructure. You will take responsibility for a number of key web services - and make a real contribution to our strategic projects, including an integrated identity management system.

Along with experience of web application development technologies and IIS/Windows Server administration, you'll need good interpersonal skills, a flexible approach, and familiarity with internet protocols. Ideally, you will have a working knowledge of C#, .Net, SQL, and XHTML - as well as a strong understanding of web technologies such as ADO, AJAX, ASP, XML and CSS. Ref: WSA2/CS/77.

For an informal discussion on either of these vacancies, please contact Louise Sibley on 01227 782522.

Student Support & Guidance

Student Adviser (Dyslexia & Neuro-Diversity)

£22,332 to £24,403 per annum

You will be responsible for prospective and registered students with dyslexia and neuro-diverse conditions (such as dyspraxia and Asperger syndrome), ensuring that the University provides appropriate support for their needs.

We are seeking a team member to provide advice, guidance and information to students and to advise other University staff on appropriate, reasonable adjustments to enable access to the curriculum and all aspects of student life.

You will be educated to at least A level standard or equivalent and be able to demonstrate that you have broad experience of working in a supportive capacity with people with neuro-diverse conditions (in either an educational or voluntary sector setting). Further study or professional development in the field of dyslexia and/or neuro-diversity would be advantageous. Ref: SA/SSG/77.

Library Services

Faculty Liaison Librarian (Health & Social Care)

£25,134 to £26,666 per annum

We are seeking to appoint an enthusiastic librarian to join the Academic Services team at a busy University Library. You will be responsible for sharing academic liaison for the Health & Social Care Faculty, and will contribute to the provision of a library service which is responsive to the needs of all students and staff.

A qualified librarian, you should have previous professional library experience, ideally within the university sector. Excellent presentation and communication skills, along with a good working knowledge of information resources, are essential. You must have a commitment to continued professional development and be able to work independently, as well as part of a team. Ref: FLL2/LS/77.

Sport Science, Tourism and Leisure

Lecturer/Senior Lecturer in Sport and Exercise Science (Biomechanics)

£26,666 to £40,335 per annum

Applications are invited for a full-time post of Lecturer/Senior Lecturer in Sport and Exercise Science to teach Biomechanics on a range of undergraduate programmes as well as contributing to the Department's expanding research programme. Applicants who can also contribute to other areas of sport and exercise science including research methods will be particularly welcome.

Applicants should possess a relevant first and/or higher degree and ideally should also possess a research degree and BASES accreditation. Ref: BIO/SSTL/77.

Informal enquiries to the Head of Department, Dr Chris Bull on 01227 782334.

The starting date is 1 April 2008 or as soon as possible thereafter.

Campus Services

Security Porter

£13,739 to £15,300 per annum

You will be responsible for maintaining the general security of the University premises including residential and office accommodation, maintaining CCTV surveillance, setting intruder and fire alarms and reacting to breaches of security. There will be some receptionist and switchboard duties particularly at nights and weekends.

You will have previous security related experience preferably within an educational establishment or similar, be of smart appearance with demonstrable interpersonal skills. You will have excellent communication skills and be able to use the telephone and e-mail systems. A relevant SIA licence will be an advantage.

Shift allocations and duties are variable and flexibility is required. There will be both day and night shift working at any one of our sites although this post will be predominantly a night shift post and you must recognise this as part of the role. Ref: SP4/CAM/77.

Accommodation Office

Security Caretaker (20 hours)

£13,739 to £15,300 per annum pro rata

The University has a wide range of student accommodation housing some 1,500 students in either self-catering flats or in catered halls spread over different sites, both on and off campus. During vacations they are also available for conferences and commercial letting.

You will be an integral part of a small team which helps to secure and maintain the student living environment at the University Halls of Residence sites.

With a background in caretaking/security in the public sector you will be able to deliver an excellent level of customer service, possess good communication and interpersonal skills and have a 'can do' approach to minor repairs, maintenance and general duties.

The hours of work will be Friday afternoon, Saturday and Sunday. Ref: SC2/ACC/77.

Night Warden (Two Posts)

£13,739 to £15,300 per annum

The University has a wide range of student accommodation housing some 1,500 students in either self-catering flats or in catered halls. The accommodation is spread over different sites, both on and off campus in Canterbury and during vacations they are available for conferences and commercial letting.

Reporting to the Accommodation Services Manager you will help to secure and maintain the student living environment on the University Halls of Residence sites working a varied shift roster any 5 days out of 7, mainly night shifts. The successful applicant, will nevertheless, need to be flexible and with due notice (usually a month's notice of change) accept shift changes readily.

With a background in caretaking/security in the public sector you will be able to deliver as part of a central security team an excellent level of customer service to students, staff and visitors to the University. You will also have good communication and interpersonal skills. Ref: NW1/ACC/77.

Campus Catering Services

Executive Head Chef

£25,134 to £26,666 per annum

Working with the Front of House and Catering Systems Manager this is a key managerial post to move the catering service forward.

With at least NVQ Level 2/3 in Food Preparation and Cooking you will have worked in an institutional catering environment at Head Chef level. You will also be in possession of a current Intermediate Food Hygiene Certificate and have been actively involved (preferably led) the introduction of HACCP into a food production kitchen.

You should be conscientious with flair and creativity and be keen to lead an excellent culinary team towards continuing success. Proven leadership skills, financial acumen, communication skills and flair, imagination and enthusiasm for food are essential as is the ability to work in a very busy environment. Ideally you will have experience of working in Higher Education. Ref: EHC1/CAT/77.

Department of Childhood Studies (Location to be confirmed)

Lecturer/Senior Lecturer - Physical Education

£27,466 to £40,335 per annum

You will be a dynamic member of staff working with the existing Physical Education team at an exciting time, when new initiatives are being designed and implemented. You will teach across a range of programmes, including the BA/BSc Physical Education and Sport & Exercise Science, and also will make significant contributions to the ongoing development of Physical Education at the University

You will have a Masters degree (or a commitment to undertake one) and be familiar with current national and international developments and issues in the field of Physical Education. Experience of, or research interest in Inclusion and/or social and cultural aspects of Physical Education are desirable. Ref: LSL9/CHS/77.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Focus your vision on future conference

COMPANIES of all sizes and sectors have been invited to take part in Kent's largest business exhibition and conference.

Kent 2020 Vision aims to showcase the best in business in the county and provide them with opportunities for future growth.

More than 300 leading companies exhibited at last year's event with at least 3,000 people attending. This year's conference is expected to attract more businesses and visitors. Early bookers will be able to choose locations which suit them.

The event organised by Business Link and supported by Kent County Council, which is now in its third year, will be held at Kent Showground in Detling on Thursday, April 3.

Tony Buddin, Business Link's head of marketing, said: "To some it may seem a long way off, but I can assure you that this business-to-business event is already firmly booked in the diaries of many companies in Kent and further afield.

"Well-organised, promoted and attended exhibitions such as Kent 2020 Vision are a valuable opportunity for local businesses to promote their products or services.

"They are also useful for networking, making new contacts and signing up new clients."

Scince Park recognised as an important site

AN OFFICIAL report has given Kent Science Park the green light for its short and long-term expansion.

Planning inspector David Wildsmith's study acknowledged that the Sittingbourne site is "unique within the Thames Gateway" as "a regionally important cluster of technology and knowledge-based businesses".

He said the land to the south and south-east of the park is "the most acceptable direction for expansion".

Mr Wildsmith suggested a master plan for long-term expansion to be drawn up, but to meet shorter term needs he recommended planning permission be granted for limited growth outside its current boundary.

He recognised the value of the Kent Science Park Resource Centre, which offers a BSc foundation degree.

Convincing Kent's business leaders to carry on choosing a Mercedes-Benz

Staying positive

Arguably 2008 is one of the most uncertain years for business in a decade. Here Jo James, director of membership services for Kent Invicta Chamber of Commerce tries to gauge the overall feel for prospects in the next 12 months – and believes confidence is the key

I BELIEVE that 2008 could be described as an "interesting" year for business: it is almost as if the whole business climate is hanging on a "wait and see" situation.

The Bank of England cut the interest rate by one quarter of one per cent, but with promises of more to come in the New Year, that should be good news.

"The climate facing UK businesses has worsened, and the position will become riskier and more difficult over the next year," said the British Chambers of Commerce, in the assessment of its Quarterly Economic Survey.

But it observed: "The business sector is still strong... we urge the Government to pay particular attention to threats facing small businesses."

Dennis Turner, Chief Economist of HSBC Bank, commenting in the bank's December economic commentary on the interest rate cut by the Bank of England said: "The behaviour of the labour market confirms that the economy remains in reasonable shape. New jobs are still being created, employment in the three months to September hit a new all-time high and the claimant count measure of unemployment fell back to 825,000, the lowest for three years.

"It appears to be fear of what is to come rather than what has already happened that forced the Monetary Policy Committee's hand."

The UK Government has managed to delay implementation of the EU Agency Workers Directive, which could potentially cost UK businesses up to 250,000 jobs, according to the Confederation of British Industry (CBI).

David Frost, Director General of the British Chambers of Commerce, said: "The proposals in the directive unfairly impact on the UK economy as we currently employ a third of all EU agency workers. The Directive also risks the established flexibility of our labour market, which has been a major factor driving job creation." The legislation will be discussed again next year.

CONFIDENCE: Jo James, from Kent Invicta Chamber of Commerce says we should not have a negative attitude

The Halifax has reported the third consecutive monthly fall in house prices, the first time this has happened since 1995. Consumer confidence indicators are at their lowest levels for five years.

In an unprecedented move, central banks around the world took coordinated action to boost liquidity, announcing steps to make it easier for stressed banks to access cash in the hopes of quelling the knock-on impact of the credit crunch. But if that does not work, what then?

Wow! Hold on to your hats, business people – we might be in for a rough ride.

There again, we might not. It does seem to me that is precisely where we are – nowhere precise. In all the years I have been involved in business support, I don't think we have ever been in such an unpredictable position.

There is an optimistic view. If all these "wait and see" aspects work out on the positive side the economic stability and prosperity we have enjoyed for the last few years will continue.

I think we can all contribute to the positive. All the indications are that we are doing quite well at the minute, thank you – but everybody seems to think that things are bound to go bad.

This is a negative attitude, which can in itself contribute to economic turn-down. There is such a thing as "talking down" the economy. I'm not suggesting that we should ignore indicators and act irresponsibly, but confidence – in consumers and businesses – is catching.

Let us all have a Happy New Year, and look on the bright side!

Seager delighted with away point

FOOTBALL

BY DAVID PRITCHARD

Dover Athletic 1 Whitstable Town 1

A SUPERB team performance earned Whitstable Town a point at runaway leaders Dover Athletic to give Marc Seager's side some festive cheer after three successive defeats.

The Whites had only dropped five points at home all season and enjoyed the best of a scoreless first half, but the Oystermen stunned the bumper seasonal crowd by opening the scoring just after the break.

An incisive move ended with full-back Danny Tipple crossing low from the left flank, which Dover centre-back Matt Bourne turned past his own goalkeeper.

The visitors sensed a memorable win, but the home side's pressure told when player/manager Andy Hessenthaler belted an unstoppable 25-yard drive into the top corner.

Despite further pressure Whitstable held out for a morale-boosting point, their first since the win against Chatham Town on December 1.

The display was in stark contrast to their performance three days earlier, when they folded to a 2-0 home defeat against Sittingbourne.

Seager was delighted to come away with a draw. He told Yourcanterbury: "We definitely deserved a point, we had our backs to the wall, but you expect that against Dover."

"It will give the boys a massive lift. Hopefully it will be a platform for a successful 2008."

Although the draw ended their losing streak, Town are now just three points above the relegation zone. They face a basement six-pointer on Saturday when Walton Casuals visit the Belmont.

When the sides met in September, Whitstable won 2-1 and Seager will hope to start 2008 with maximum points to ease his side's relegation worries.

STAYING PUT: Striker Wayne Fittall is believed to be one of the two unnamed players who turned down a move to Margate

Players stay committed to City and Fairclough

A PAIR of Canterbury City players have turned down moves to Margate in a bid to help the fledgling team to promotion this season.

City boss Dave Fairclough indicated he would not stand in the way of anyone who had an opportunity to make an impact at a higher level, but said he was delighted with the decisions of the duo, who both declined the chance to jump up five divisions.

He told Yourcanterbury: "Fortunately, at the moment both players indicated they were happy with the direction the club was going, which is very encouraging."

"I'm not surprised in the interest we get for some of our players, so we have got to provide the environment that encourages players to stay with us and at the moment they are very committed."

"That's reassuring but I think we are going to have that problem over the next few years until we are parallel with those sides."

FOOTBALL

City finished off 2007 with a 7-0 win against Larkfield & New Hythe and go into the New Year in an extremely strong position 11 points clear at the top of the Kent County League Division Two East.

With the strongest attack and the joint meanest defence in the league they have lost once in 14 games to take a stranglehold of the division at the halfway point.

He said: "I think really I'm always conscious of the fact that you're only as good as your last result. I try not to look at the league table and try and win every game as it comes."

"We are moving in the right direction and we are still on target for promotion which is what we really hoped for."

The team have a chance to enhance their championship credentials when they visit third-placed Otford on Saturday.

REVIEW OF THE YEAR

It's been an eventful year of sport in the county

THE biggest event in the 2007 sporting calendar was the Tour de France which swept through the streets of Kent, but there were a number of highlights in the county last year.

JANUARY: Maidstone United moved one step closer to a return to the town after work began on a new ground at the former Ministry of Defence site in James Whatman Way. The club acquired a 99-year lease on the site, courtesy of a £98,000 council loan.

FEBRUARY: Former Arsenal and England striker Ian Wright became a director of Ryman Division One South strugglers Ashford Town. Wright hoped to make an impact on the club's youth set-up by taking the role of director of football strategy.

MARCH: After seven years in the wilderness, plans to revive Canterbury City Football Club were given the green light. The club folded in 1999 due to lack of interest, but at a public meeting, the club were given the go-ahead to join the British Energy County League.

APRIL: Margate boxer Mehrdud Takaloo lost his WBU Welterweight crown in front of 35,000 fans at the Millennium Stadium in Cardiff. Takaloo was defeated on points in his title fight with Michael Jennings from Chorley.

MAY: Steve Bennett from Orpington became the first referee to take charge of an FA Cup final at the new Wembley Stadium, as Chelsea defeated Manchester United 1-0. Bennett said: "It's every referee's dream to officiate the cup final and I guess it makes it extra special because of where it's taking place and the teams that are involved."

JUNE: Kent cricket coach Graham Ford caused controversy after he appeared to verbally accept a one-year deal to coach the India national side. After the South African travelled to Chennai for an interview, he declined the role to remain at Kent.

JULY: The sun-drenched streets of Kent hosted one of the world's biggest sporting events in the form of the Tour de France. More than two million people lined the 126-mile stage, which took in Dartford, Medway, Maidstone, Tunbridge Wells and Ashford.

AUGUST: Kent lifted their first trophy in six years after beating Gloucestershire in the final of the Twenty20 Cup at Edgbaston. Ryan McLaren starred, taking the first hat-trick in a Twenty20 final.

SEPTEMBER: Gillingham chairman Paul Scally began his search for a new manager after Ronny Jepson quit the club. Jepson offered his resignation on September 9 after losing five of the first six games to end his 22-month spell at the Kent club.

OCTOBER: The England rugby team displayed great courage in reaching the World Cup final, no more so than ex-Tunbridge Wells schoolboy Martin Corry. The Leicester Tigers forward missed out on the victorious 2003 campaign Down Under, but was instrumental in helping England overcome Australia and France before losing to South Africa in the final.

NOVEMBER: Gillingham ended their eight-week search for a manager when former Stevenage and Grays boss Mark Stimson was installed. Chairman Paul Scally interviewed several candidates, but was convinced he had found the right man. He said: "Managers at a very senior level have said they believe he is a fantastic coach and manager and he is going to go on and do very well."

DECEMBER: Sir Trevor Brooking took time out of his role in offering the England job to Fabio Capello, to support Kent FA's blueprint for grassroots football to 2012. Sir Trevor said: "Football is perceived to be awash with money, but at community level that is far from the case."
